

EXERCISE

Make a note in your diary of a day when you can get the team to groom and estimate the backlog. Agree it with the scrum master and team. I suggest this should happen once a sprint in the second half of the sprint so that the team can get into the flow of working in the first half.